took out the type and distributed it in the mill-race.

Ypsilanti Commercial: E. D. Lay planted a slip of the golden willow in 1838, which is now 16 feet six inches in circumference four feet from the ground.

E. O. Shaw, editor of the Newaygo Repub-